

IMMEDIATE PAYMENTS

CONNECT FAST

Transform your payment solutions with immediate payments by offering your members the convenience and speed they expect in today's digital world and stay ahead in a competitive market. To get started, you must establish a technical connection and integration with your credit union's core system to the RTP® network and/or FedNow® Service. Corporate One can enable a unified immediate payments connection (to both rails) through a simplified API that allows your members to begin receiving real-time payments and allows your credit union to integrate immediate payments into various products and services.

BENEFITS

- + Provides your credit union with a necessary connection point and integrations to the RTP network and/or FedNow Service.
- + Open, core-independent connection.
- + Choice and autonomy to integrate immediate payments into the front-end application you want using the providers of your choice without limitations of legacy technology or partners.
- + FedNow profile management services are available, helping credit unions without a FedLine account access the FedNow Service.
- + Positions your credit union to meet member expectations, generate additional revenue streams, and compete against the big banks.

How Does it Work?

As a Third-Party Service Provider for the RTP network and Service Provider for the FedNow Service, Corporate One can connect your credit union to either rail via its core-independent open-payment platform, providing unparalleled flexibility and autonomy to seamlessly incorporate immediate payment messaging into a range of front-end digital experiences.

SET UP A DISCOVERY MEETING

Explore the next steps in your immediate payments journey by scheduling a Discovery Meeting.

Whether you're just getting started or already considering immediate payments for your credit union, we can help.

A Discovery Meeting will focus on:

- Providing education: Learn more about immediate payments and why now is the right time for your credit union to consider immediate payments.
- Providing strategic direction: We can guide your credit union on the key decision points needed to get started on immediate payments.
